Wayne Public Library 461 Valley Road
Wayne, NJ

As a team, Donovan and Zucker have been collaborating on stories about autism since 2000. At ABC, they created the pioneering series Echoes of Autism, the first regular feature segment in network news devoted to understanding the lives of individuals and families living with autism. As two journalists with a personal connection to autism, they aim to inspire acceptance of and support for people on the spectrum by telling their stories with honesty and compassion.

Opening remarks by Mr. Michael Reinknecht Director of Student Support Services Wayne Public Schools
